Message from the Editor ...

“Often when you think you're at the end of something,
you're at the beginning of something else.” — Fred Rogers

It has been a year since my last editor's message and what a year it has been. As I glance out of my office window into an empty campus courtyard, I realise how much we miss having our students on campus. The continuous chatter and sudden outburst of laughter seem to be a distant memory now but I know this is not a time to be nostalgic. In fact, as the nation continues our battle against Covid-19, every one of us has to remain motivated and hopeful. Despite the many restrictions, we still had a busy year with many activities held for and by the students, mostly with the aim of giving back to the community.

As educators, my colleagues have worked doubly hard the past one year, adapting and innovating their teaching delivery; to help our students on their learning journey while staying safe at home. Adaptation is truly the key word and the one trait that has ensured our continued commitment to academic excellence.

Our students themselves have proven to be a tough and resilient group. As I have said on numerous occasions, all the skills they are developing now while attending online classes, organising virtual project group meetings and even conducting their presentations online will work to their advantage when they leave Sunway College JB for further studies or when they enter the workforce. Our students are definitely pandemic-proof and future ready!

Our students' parents have also been pillars of support since day one. The many occasions of parents (and sometimes, grandparents) peeping into our students' screen during online classes have put smiles on the lecturers' faces. I believe it was difficult initially for many of them to figure out how online classes work but we truly appreciate the cooperation and understanding shown to us.

The days ahead seem optimistic though, with vaccination rates increasing within the community and all of us having learnt to cope with the pandemic. I believe it will not be long before we get to see our students running about in the Campus soon and when it happens, adaptation will once again be a key word as we all learn to live with Covid.

In the meantime, stay safe and stay healthy!

Ong Mei Mei

Learning By Doing

Diploma in Events Management students volunteered as part of the crew at the O2O Home Expo Johor Bahru @ CATHAY Eco Spring involving an opening ceremony which was conducted both online and offline, photography club challenge, cycling challenge, autoshow, kids activities and a home expo.

The students were assigned tasks such as making sure visitors followed the SOPs in place at the entry and exit points, manning the kids activities booth and online traffic administration.

Industry Interview Project

Final year Diploma in Hotel Management students took learning to a whole new level for their work experience assignment. They enjoyed the unique experience of playing 'interviewer' to 'candidates' from the management level at leading hotel brands.

Through this project, the students gained first-hand insights into the world behind the glitz and glamour of an international hotel property as well as the sales and marketing strategies for business development.

Maintaining Academic Integrity

A team of Pre-University lecturers leading the college's BYOD (Bring Your Own Device) initiative presented at the Seminar on Internal-External Quality Assurance (SieQA) which brought together expert panellists, speakers and participants from academia and the various quality assurance authorities in the region to discuss how higher education institutions have been responding in this period of major change.

The recognition of the paper presented is testament to the quality of delivery and integrity of the online assessments conducted by the college.

Taking Events and Activities to the Virtual Space

The Covid-19 pandemic has changed the way we gather, communicate and grow. Since then, staff from Student Services have taken to the virtual realm to organise and host student events and activities. As current SOPs and guidelines do not permit face-to-face gatherings, the team has continued to keep students socially engaged, entertained and most importantly, safe.

FESTIVE CHEER

To keep the festive seasons alive, several contests were organised using interactive online applications such as Kahoot! and WordWall. Participants took to the virtual space to count the number of 'ang pows' and solve word puzzles in addition to sharing photos of their favourite Hari Raya food and guessing answers to riddles based on traditions of these festive celebrations.

FRESHIES' NIGHT

The Freshies' Night 2021 was conducted virtually via MS Teams for the very first time to allow new students from different programmes to get to know each other, network and be entertained by performances. The one and a half hour event also saw creative ways to interact in the new normal where some lucky students won prizes!

CHECKING OUT THE NEIGHBOURHOOD

With the help of satellite imagery, aerial photography, street maps and 360° panoramic views on Google Maps, students had fun exploring, 'virtually' searching for landmarks and hot spots around Mount Austin in a treasure hunt type team challenge.

MERDEKA Kahoot!

We put the knowledge of students to the test with the Merdeka Kahoot! Malaysia – My Country, My Home contest. For each week in the months of August and September, students logged in to answer a series of questions about Malaysia ranging from history to current issues to win prizes.

'Ask Me Anything' Initiative

The onset of Covid-19 and the adaptation to the new normal have brought about anxiety and confusion to many students. Guidance and Counselling @ Student Services collaborated with Dr Fabian, a psychiatrist from Hospital Permai to answer mental health related questions from students. Dr Fabian also shared ways to build mental resilience and combat stress during this pandemic.

Eh, 1 Meter Lah!

A college-wide campaign aptly themed 'Eh, 1 Meter Lah!' was launched to raise awareness and encourage physical distancing among the campus community. Organised by students of Diploma in International Business August 2019, Diploma in Marketing April 2019 and Diploma in Information Technology August 2019 as part of their Community Service course assignment, the students raised awareness through several activities in line with the theme.

Among these were a photo competition, sharing of weekly physical distancing memes on the College Instagram and Safe-Distancing Advocates who patrolled around campus in a bid to remind everyone to observe physical distancing.

Providing A Home Away From Home

Living apart from family for the first time can be daunting. As part of the welcome for new residents and to help them settle in to on-campus living, staff from the Sunway College Residence together with Guidance and Counselling organised activities for the residents to bond and get to know each other.

Accounting Professional Avenue (APA) Quiz Challenge 2021

ACCA programme students Lim Zhi Shao and Lim Wei En did the College proud by emerging champion and first runner-up respectively in the Accounting Professional Avenue (APA) Quiz Challenge 2021 organised by University Sains Malaysia (USM). The competition was introduced to provide participants with opportunities to enhance their accounting skills and to be prepared in embracing changes in the business world.

Virtual Education Campaign on Covid-19

The final semester students of the Diploma in Health Care Management April 2019 truly showcased understanding and maturity about Covid-19. To align with the nation's aim to achieve herd immunity, their presentations covered fundamental information ranging from correct hand washing techniques to the current talking point on facts and myths relating to vaccines.

The event also included guest speakers from SEGi University and Perdana University.

For a Good Cause

From face-to-face events to hybrid mode and now 100% virtually, these students from the Diploma in Events Management August 2019 and 2020 completed yet another successful fundraising event. They conducted live sessions online which included lucky draws and an online quiz as well as sold blankets made by single mothers which were later donated to an old folks home.

The Victoria University Bachelor of Business degree students turned up the notch for their Community Service course assignment by making more than 1300 effective microorganism (EM) mud balls in a day! Used as part of an environmental conservation effort, these EM mud balls are made of soil, clay, bokashi and EM as a natural water treatment. The students then transported and threw the mud balls into Sungai Rekoh with the help from caretakers of a Siamese Buddhist temple which is located by the river.

River Restoration

Student Council 2021/2022

The inaugural Student Council was established to be the official body which represents the collective voice of the Sunway College JB student community, promote their ideas and advocate their views and interests. It is a democratic and non-political body with all students given equal opportunity to participate. This platform also provides the opportunity to enhance their social and communication competencies.

Hard work and determination key to Sek Yi's success

The Covid-19 pandemic did not stop Cambridge A-Level's Chin Sek Yi from achieving excellence. Sek Yi who hailed from the August 2019 cohort, proved that online learning was just as effective in helping her achieve 4A* in the November 2020 examinations.

"I come from an average family where my parents had always encouraged me to be independent in studies as well as financially. Throughout my A-Levels, I juggled my time between studies and tutoring after classes and on weekends. Planning, prioritisation and time management was crucial in balancing my responsibilities."

Sek Yi is greatly passionate about natural sciences and was overjoyed when she received an offer by the National University of Singapore (NUS) to pursue Life Sciences. She commenced her first semester in August 2021 and we wish her well in her studies.

Bright future ahead for Samuel

He started his studies online amidst the onset of a pandemic and completed his pre-university programme online as the Covid-19 situation took a turn for the worse. Yet, soon after the release of results, Monash University Foundation Year (MUFY) student, Samuel Tang Jia Ern chose to immediately continue with the Victoria University Bachelor of Business degree programme at Sunway College JB.

"The MUFY programme gave me a good start as the subjects that I studied helped me decide on the undergraduate course," said Samuel who achieved an impressive MUFY score of 95.88 and the Award of Excellence for achieving the highest score in English Unit 1.

"My lecturers were always supportive and understanding – we have developed a firm relationship along the way and we talked about almost anything!"

Currently pursuing a major in accounting, Samuel is certain of this field because this pathway will lead him to his dream of becoming a chartered accountant.
